Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Initially I would like to congratulate you for the initiative.

Some considerations:

- I missed citations in the article regarding statistical data and basic concepts.
- information in tabular or graphic form demonstrating the evolution of the main crops in the country, in comparison with the expansion of palm production
- information on the profile of the population in food insecurity
- information on the impact of monoculture on the environment
- more up-to-date fire data
- better division of the text, include subdivisions by subject
- better discussion of the results and include citations of other works
- include maps with unsafe areas x planting areas

congratulations!
