

Review of: "The Students and Faculty Perception of Digital Citizenship Practices in Distance Learning Environment – The Case Study of Al-Quds Open University"

Ivon Arisanti

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Methodology

Data Analysis in this research needs to describe both qualitative and quantitative data analysis. For qualitative analysis, results must clarify how you find your findings based on the interviews. Quantitative analysis techniques need to explain clearly, as also measurement instruments.

2. Results and Discussion

- The sample is incomplete; there is a lack of information about the respondent, for example, the field of the study and just the study level of the sample.
- For the faculty and student awareness and knowledge of digital citizenship, you need to describe your findings based on qualitative and quantitative results.

3. Conclusion

- The findings from the survey are not clearly explained in the conclusion
- The results of this study are not organized and do not clearly provide implications and limitations.