Review of: "Analysis of the Spread of Covid-19 via Atangana-Baleanu Fractional Derivatives"

Jyoti Devkota[1]

1 Kathmandu University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In this paper, the authors have tried to explain the COVID-19 pandemic with the SEIR model using Atangana-Baleanu Fractional Derivatives. This paper has not addressed the following queries.

1. What is the novelty of this work?
2. There are several papers explaining the COVID-19 pandemic using the SEIR model. What is the unique contribution of this work?
3. What is the contribution of this paper to the existing body of knowledge?