

Review of: "Performance Evaluation and Analysis of Electric Vehicle Parameters – A Test Bench"

Nima Shafaghatian¹

¹ Zanzan University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper on electric vehicle performance lacks clarity in theoretical data and innovation. Grammar issues persist, and the link to sustainable mobility is irrelevant. Specific data collection methods, transparent data analysis, and emphasis on simulation model validation are needed. The paper should highlight contributions, address parasitic losses, and emphasize practical implications for EV stakeholders. Unit inconsistencies and the need for quantitative results in the conclusion should be addressed.