

Review of: "Women in Slum, Risking Their Safety to Access and Usage of Basic Sanitation Facilities-A Literature Review"

Edith Malemba

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an interesting topic with a lot of potential for positive impact. The authors should consider restructuring the manuscript so that there is more logical flow. There are some concepts that are introduced that can be further explained (e.g. access to sanitation vs HIV) and others that need some referencing (e.g. women in coastal slums). The methods and results section can be further expanded to detail the full process and findings.