Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. This is an out-of-date topic for publication yet addresses are fascinating.
2. As the article looks back at the use of online education throughout the epidemic, a topic that has been exhaustively discussed in academia, it is no longer timely.
3. There is a lack of a well-defined problem statement that needs to be addressed before publication.
4. The following are some papers the author need to consider:
 - a. Tang, T., Abuhmaid, A. M., Olaimat, M., Oudat, D. M., Aldhaeebi, M., & Bamanger, E. (2023). Efficiency of flipped classroom with online-based teaching under COVID-19. Interactive Learning Environments, 31(2), 1077-1088. <https://doi.org/10.1080/10494820.2020.1817761>

5. The authors have conducted a theoretical study and did not perform any statistical analysis to support their conclusions, predictions, or suggestions.
6. I recommend the author have a "discussion" section before the conclusion to provide an overview of the manuscript.
7. The author is advised to furnish a comprehensive conclusion regarding the outcomes and overall deductions of the research, as the current conclusion appears to be overly broad.
8. The English in this manuscript is not of publication quality and requires significant improvement before it can be considered for publication. Please take the time to proofread thoroughly and run a spell check to remove any grammatical errors.
