Review of: "A Probability-Based Algorithm for Evaluating Climbing Difficulty Grades"

I.F. Kamaruzaman[1]

1 Multimedia University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I am pleased with the revisions made to the manuscript. The author has successfully addressed the concerns raised during the initial review, and the improvements made have enhanced the overall quality of the paper. The clarity of the content and the incorporation of relevant literature make the manuscript more robust and impactful. I commend the author for their diligence and thoughtful revisions, which have significantly strengthened the manuscript.