

Review of: "A Review of the Drawdown Zone in African Reservoirs: Current Knowledge, Understudied Areas and Recommendations for Future Research"

Marian Nassif¹

¹ National Institute of Oceanography and Fisheries

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Making a survey of all the African reservoirs is a big deal. The idea of the article is new; however, the manuscript did not reach its scope. It would be better if the article gives information about the present animal and plant species so that other researchers will be able to use it in comparison with the ecological status. I see that you need to update the references as well.

Good luck!