The abstract needs to be improved, as this topic should be structured with items from the introduction, methodology, results, and conclusion;

In the Keywords: should be improved, because there are words that are already in the title of the manuscript;

The intro needs to be improved, as the first paragraph does not link to the second;

In the collection of the sample, what are the geographical coordinates? What is the registration number of the sample in the herbarium?

What is the scientific name of the mice used in this experiment?

The conclusion needs to be improved with significant and impactful information from the study obtained by the authors.
