This paper needs major revision. Here are some points that need to be revisited strongly.

- (1) The authors should present the equations in a way. In some equations the equation number itself is not present.
- (2) Some of the statements contained in the article have not been cited at all. Any strong statement has to be quoted properly.
- (3) Some references are missing and not cited properly.
- (4) The authors are suggested to include some of the latest literature concerning metals and carbon fillers in comparison to MXenes.
- (5) The author needs to make a table and mention the advantages of MXenes over metals and carbon content.
