

Peer Review

Review of: "Psychosocial Predictors of Suicidal Ideation in Mexican Adolescents: The Role of Gender, Bullying, and Intrafamilial Violence"

Reza Sahlan¹

1. State University of New York at Buffalo, United States

The paper presents interesting findings and holds promise for contributing to the existing literature. However, to strengthen its impact and provide clearer context for readers, it would be beneficial for the authors to expand both the introduction and the discussion sections. A more detailed introduction could offer a deeper rationale for the study and highlight relevant prior research, while an expanded discussion could better interpret the results, explore their implications, and address potential limitations.

Thank you,

Reza N. Sahlan

Declarations

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.