

Review of: "Revitalizing Key Conditions and Integrated Watershed Management Approach to Sustain Water Availability and Agriculture in Semi-Arid Regions"

Kedra Wabela

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

General Comment,

- As the paper is a review study, only 17 reference sources are too small.
- Focus more on local sources of information
- Connect your study to local conditions (research results in the arid regions)
- Check the grammar and spelling of the sentences

Abstract:

So far, some achievements have been made in terms of soil and water conservation activities.....Where? You have to be specific about where the study was conducted.

Introduction:

Avoid too-long sentences. eg.,

Land degradation and continuous desertification, caused by climate variability and global warming, human activities, and poor land management practices, are fueled by high.....

To improve food security and reduce poverty in the global drylands, there must be success in semi-arid regions in particular, considering the fact that further global climate.....

Considering the significant coverage of semiarid regions over the globe, the risk of total conversion of semiarid to arid regions, the ease of reclamation of semiarid regions.....

Put the specific methodology you followed to collect the material.

2. Characteristics and challenges of water availability and agriculture in drylands

Dryland farming is practiced in regions where a lack of soil moisture limits.....(Check the grammar of the sentence)

3. Revitalizing the Integrated Watershed Management Approach

To meet future food demands and improve the rural livelihoods of the growing population, it is recommended to upgrade (invest more in) rainfed agriculture to enhance agricultural..... (Too long sentence, you can summarize the idea of the sentences in short and clear ways)

3.2. Constraints of the IWSM Approach

Among others, the problems that impede meeting the objectives of IWSM include: i) poor institutional and policy support (lack of awareness among policymakers on trends and impacts of degradation.....(Make your paper interesting for the readers by providing a brief summary of your idea in a sentence).

4.1.2. Assuring legal and policy support

In dealing with agropastoralism and dryland problems, positive changes have been noticed following increased exchanges and closer collaboration through increased interaction between pastoralists and farmers (Reference)?