Thanks for your article:

My recommendations are the following:

1- check the grammar

2- the title includes (children) but the sample includes adolescents

3- "The aim is to have criteria to personalize the individual rehabilitation plan choosing a mix of activities with more appropriate emotional influence." in the abstract is not clear. Moreover, the aim at the end of the introduction is not the same in the abstract (The aim is to have criteria to personalize the individual rehabilitation plan choosing a mix of activities with more appropriate emotional influence.) and also different in the method (with the aim of assessing the opinion of participants regarding the appropriateness of 11 types of leisure-rehabilitation activities in enhancing 7 types of psychological responses.)

4- Please rewrite the abstract, which should include (introduction, purpose, method, result, and conclusion).

5- the method section isn't complete, and the statistical analysis

6- Most of the references aren't recent

7- The conclusion and recommendations aren't clear
