

Review of: "The Correlation between Poverty and Crime in Pakistan"

Lihong Yang¹

¹ University of Southern California

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper offers a valuable contribution to the exploration of the poverty-crime nexus in Pakistan. Strengthening empirical support, enhancing conceptual clarity, and suggesting future research directions would further solidify the paper's significance and appeal to a wider audience. It would benefit from incorporating more empirical evidence to support its claims. Including case studies, statistical data, or real-world examples would enhance the credibility of the findings.