

Review of: "Determinants of Internal Financing: Small and Medium Enterprises in Pakistan"

Isha Chhabra¹

¹ Manav Rachna International Institute of Research and Studies

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Abstract is not clear. It has not been presented in a structured format. There is no concise description of variables and result in the abstract.

There is no clarity in the introduction part as well. Author has described the relevance of SMEs and internal financing for them. However, the author has failed to explain the research gap vividly and the objectives addressed to fill the gap. Findings of the study have also not been discussed in the introduction part. Moreover, proper references have also not been quoted in the introduction part.

Literature Review needs to be worked upon. No latest references have been used.

In Research Methodology, no time period and sample have been stated. Statistical Software has also not been mentioned.

Panel data assumptions have not been checked. Like stationarity, heterogeneity, autocorrelation. In addition, findings and conclusion are not well collaborated.