

Review of: "A brief introduction to the COM-B Model of behaviour and the PRIME Theory of motivation"

Dr. Muhammad Rafiq¹

¹ Superior University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is thoughtful and informative. The idea is pitched formally and logically. I just need to suggest that different theories of motivation and perspective is defined in single stream line that I think need little more justification and their connection with your study.