The article constitutes substantial research, but some issues should be considered:

1. The title appears to be ambiguous. The phrase "understand the use" needs more clarification. The term "to adopt" could better accentuate the meaning.
2. The research hypotheses could be given as research assumptions or questions to help interpret and discuss the results.
3. The results' discussion is a manuscript strength, but the verification of the research assumptions is not clear. The research questions could help the authors to address this issue.
4. English proofreading is needed.
