

Review of: "Rates and Reasons for Relapse of Pulmonary Tuberculosis in Adults — “Case of the MU YA Urban Health Zone”"

Asiye Çiğdem Şimşek<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Health Sciences University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Gabriele Marinello,

The article is well written. However, I wondered whether the survey questions included inquiries about the number of household members, the ventilation characteristics of the dwelling, the number of people working together in the same area at the workplace, and the ventilation characteristics of the workplace. I think these questions may affect scientific results, especially in studies on respiratory diseases such as tuberculosis.

Maybe I apologize if I overlooked it.

I wish you good work.