I have read this article very carefully and indeed cannot find its scientific contribution. The article is only a synthesis of information from secondary documents, especially using too many unverified internet documents. Furthermore, the article has not provided any personal comments on the research issue based on the synthesis of existing documents. Many numbers and events were not cited by the author and their accuracy was not assessed. Due to lack of basic scientific integrity, I do not agree to publish this article in your journal because it will affect the quality of the journal.

Warm regards,
