

Review of: "Determinants of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) Sustainable Development in Africa"

Sabahat Akram

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Its a very well written Article, fulfilling all the basic requirements of the research article. the research gap is properly identified and significance of the study highlighted. the research design is well constructed.

The only shortcoming is that it is not clear that the authors run regression on six different lines/hypothesis or a combined regression analysis having all variable (IVs) on a single equation.

Mathematical form of the regression line having proper abbreviations and signs depicting DV and IVs is absent in material and method section.

Results in equation form should not be depicted in Material and method section ,rather it should be in results and discussion section