

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Densely Granulated Lactotroph Adenoma

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Densely Granulated Lactotroph Adenoma. NCI Thesaurus. Code C45931.

A rare prolactin producing pituitary gland adenoma composed of acidophilic cells with many large secretory granules. The endoplasmic reticulum is not as abundant as in the sparsely granulated subtype.