Dear...

The notes below must be followed and taken into account because they represent the basis of the scientific research process:

1. The title of the research does not clearly reflect the content of the research.
2. Keywords must be added to the research abstract and must be expressive of its content.
3. The practical methodology of the research must be clearly followed.
4. It is necessary to refer to previous studies and clarify the main concepts of the research.
5. The research problem and the research gap were not identified.
6. No hypotheses were formulated to express the explanation of the research problem, and the procedures associated with examining the hypotheses were not developed.

Gratefully
