

Review of: "The Application of Adjustable Magnetic Devices in Electric Power Systems"

Cong Tu<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The loss analysis is important if the author claims it is good for power conversion application.

Some of the mechanism of tunable inductor are not included in the review. I encourage the author improvement the literature survey and include more existing works on the adjustable magnetic devices.