

Review of: "[Commentary] The new nucleic acid based COVID-19 vaccines: a glittering achievement, yet disturbed by a black stain that does need to be identified and swept away"

Ashish Sarangi

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Very nice and solidly written article that adds significantly to the current literature.

However, I would recommend briefly discussing vaccine hesitancy in a few sentences and utilizing the following citation for this purpose:

<https://jepha.springeropen.com/articles/10.1186/s42506-022-00102-8>

Please make the above change and resubmit for consideration for publication