

Review of: "From International to Subnational: A Contribution to the Insertion of Subnational Governments in Northeastern Brazil in the Internationalization of Public Policies."

Yovana S. Veerasamy¹

¹ University of Toledo

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I recommend elaborating the introduction to include:

1. A definition of internationalization of public policies.
2. A general introduction to the nature of the Brazilian government, states and local government and the relationship between the entities. This will help the reader better understand the power dynamics and policy area dynamic within the discussion.