

Review of: "The Influence of Music Education on the Academic Behavior for Preschool Children with Autism"

Sergio Candido De Oscar

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The work brings important contributions to the field of Music Education, especially with regard to aspects related to the care of children with autistic spectrum disorder.

Although the study was restricted to a limited group of children, it pointed out important issues regarding the development of these children's performance in preschool. Thus, the research presented here points to the need to expand these studies in the field of music education.