Text should be justified aligned. The author can discuss about the method "Delphi consensus design" used. A pie chart can be used for results in qualitative/quantitative idea generation, it would be more clear using charts or diagrams. Though the article is very well written, but it seems bit confusing also some terms are frequently repeated. avoid repetitions. It would be a great if you mention why you chose this, what are the limitations, what are the suggested findings. Refer recent publications, the author has typically referred old publications.
