Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The authors should stick to either American or British spellings, i.e., either 'fibers' or 'fibres'. They should not mix both spellings.

In citing references in the text, the first names of authors should not be mentioned, e.g., 'Patrick Ehimoisili et al' should be cited as 'Ehimoisili et al'.

A lot of methodology materials, i.e., descriptions of tests conducted, were reported in the results and discussion section. These should be removed and placed in the methodology section.

The discussion is not detailed enough. There are no references to previous studies for comparison, there are no reasons/postulations given for the results and trends in results obtained, etc. The section needs to be beefed up significantly
