The topic of the paper entitled 'Culture Lockdown, Nature Freedom: Respite for Biodiversity during the COVID Pandemic – A Limited Case Study in La Union, Philippines' is noteworthy. The research topic and data collected are intrinsically interesting but worked with the single species. The research topic and findings are inspiring. The Abstract lacks the data. The introduction does establish the existing state of knowledge but needs more emphasis on biodiversity and related parameters. Authors should add the knowledge gap at the end of the introduction with proper citations.
