Thank you for suggesting the review. This is an interesting study that reports on the situation of the goat sector. In this version of the document, certain deficiencies have already been corrected.

It has been corrected to incorporate the statistical program used.

I believe that the introduction can be summarized and that certain paragraphs that are repetitive can be written in a simpler way.

Perhaps they could have been worked on as two groups of animals: those that are pure breeds versus those that are not.

Although this information can be inferred from all numerical data, statistics can be worked on in these groups.

A table 6 appears after the conclusion, and it should not be there. The conclusion is a paragraph of text only.

Congratulations on this study.
