

Review of: "Tourists' Activities and their Impacts on Chinhoyi Caves Heritage Site, Zimbabwe"

Owen Gohori¹

¹ North-West University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article provides some insights on the activities done by tourists and their impacts at Chinhoyi Caves. The methodology of the article may be strengthened by the following:

1. Starting why only 20 Interviews were conducted.
2. Highlighting the ethical issues/procedures that were done/followed during the research process.
3. Providing an interviewees' profile and indicating whether they were domestic or international tourists.

In the conclusion section, there may be a need to explain/discuss the measures being taken by the responsible authorities to address the negative impacts and then give recommendations.