

Review of: "A Policy Dialogue for Nutrition of Women and Adolescent Girls: Sustainable Development Goals Matters Arising"

David Jean Simon¹

¹ Université Panthéon-Sorbonne (Paris I)

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is very interesting. However, the authors need to add more references. The lack of references is the article's main weakness. After a definition, references must be added, otherwise it would be considered plagiarism. The authors have presented results without giving sources. Without references, this article cannot be published in any scientific journal. I suggest that the authors add more references to enhance the value of this work. Furthermore, I suggest that they add the limitations of this article.