Thank you again for your interest and for sending your proposal.

I have read it and found it interesting. The research problem is potentially in scope.. However, I want to emphasize that the literature review is incomplete and generic and does not inform readers about the paper's contributions to both theory and practice. Despite this flaw, the essay is well-written and gives valid and relevant insights.

I invite the authors to improve the LR by revisiting well cited articles in reliable journals, and improve the papers contributions while highlighting the gaps

Good luck
