

Review of: "Women In Slum Risking Their Safety To Access And Usage Of Basic Water And Sanitation Facilities"

Kalyani B¹

¹ Boston Athenaeum

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper is addressing very important and very relevant topic and it is very important to bring such topics into limelight. The Authors have well written and structured the paper I suggest authors to take this paper forward and educate the world and policy makers and planners. The paper is well structured and the write up is easy to understand and relevant. Good efforts, It is very good to see fourth year students are making efforts to make such difference and addressing such important topics.