Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Please add some of your current results from this mini review article to the abstract.

Introduction is acceptable in its current form and gives a reasonable background, research problem, and the current situation of the main research idea.

Methodology: I think this section needs to be edited (how you excluded the study) and to give some insight into the role of PRISMA in your mini review article.

Discussion is rich and acceptable.

Conclusions come from your findings.
