It is an interesting read. A common topic post covid. I have a few suggestions.

Introduction

There is no mention whether the study is done for school, college or university level teaching.

Whether the participants were regional or pan country.

Shorten the two sub topics i.e. Main e-learning issues and E-learning in China during Covid-19 – case study, in one or two paragraphs including only the relevant information along with use of proper citations.

Kindly specify if this study is part of larger study very briefly

Method

Mention the type of study, duration, Cases and other demographics.

Please be specific regarding the issues/problems studied.

How did you define the problem. If already defined then site it.

How did you measure the extent of each of the problems. Attach your questionnaire as a supplement.

Type of questionnaire , paper?, online?

Results

Presentation is not systematic.

Please tabulate or do a chart representation of your results.

Discussion

Comparison with other similar studies needs to be done and then discussed

Conclusion

It should be specific to the study

No recommendations are required in conclusion.
