Overall, this is a very important study addressing a critical issue concerning mental illness. The study is well written. It needs only minor revision.

Comments:

Methods:

- Where is the study period (fromto.....)?
- The first patient was selected until the desired sample size was achieved: how was the 1st patient selected? Was it randomly?
- The author mentioned in the methods section that facility A has 400 patients, while in table 1 that demonstrates the proportional sampling it is written 300 patients; please revise and correct
- Data analysis: What about the normality test?

I hope that the above comments may be helpful for you.
