Review of: "Trust is the best policy. Game theoretical analysis of bias in elicitation procedures in linguistics"

Haili Wu[1]

1 University College London, University of London

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is a very interesting article with solid data analysis. I would suggest that in the literature review part, the discussion about game theory and decision theory could be made clearer and more relevant to the main topic.