

Review of: "Views and Attitudes of Pharmacy and Medical/Dental Students Towards Inter-Professional Education and Collaboration in the United Arab Emirates"

Ghali H. Majzoub¹

¹ Beirut Arab University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Hello there,

Beautiful paper tackling such questionnaires in the UAE.

I have just one comment regarding the misconception of the medical students and dentists who don't agree with the role of the pharmacist to prescribe other generic/brands of medicine to the patients.

I know it's subjective that the pharmacy students in the UAE chose in majority not to disapprove of this, and yet you stated that it is a misconception according to other studies.

So can you please have a small reference (1-2 sentences) that has shown that pharmacy students are against this misconception.

NB: I have a nice example from the literature by Joseph Ross that can help you in the term of therapeutic substitution matter that is implicated globally.

Ross JS. Therapeutic Substitution—Should It Be Systematic or Automatic? JAMA Intern Med. 2016;176(6):776.
doi:10.1001/jamainternmed.2016.2271

Best of luck