

Peer Review

Review of: "FIFA World Cup 2022 Qatar Corner Kicks: An Analysis on Effectiveness and Match Context"

Nemanja Ćopić¹

1. Faculty of sport, Univerzitet UNION Nikola Tesla, Belgrade, Serbia

Dear Authors,

I believe the topic of this paper is very important for football coaches, especially for those responsible for preparing and analyzing set-piece plays, specifically corner kicks. Expanding the dataset to include additional competitions would certainly enhance the study's contribution and reduce the limitation of sample size for the defined variables. Additionally, when it comes to statistics, if possible, it would be beneficial to present the statistical significance of the results.

Nevertheless, I find this paper to be well-written with a clear structure, and it can be accepted for publication.

Declarations

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.