

Review of: "Perception of Biodiversity versus Connection to Nature: Which Can Influence Wildlife Product Consumption in Vietnam?"

Alejandro Estrada

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an interesting paper and relevant to further understand the impact of hunting on wildlife. However, the authors need to be more thorough regarding the description of the result. That is, they need to provide more details. They also need to justify the use of some models and indicate if there are alternative models to examine and analyse the data. I think the paper needs a major revision and encourage the authors to update and submit a revised version.

I reviewed the paper earlier today, but I am not certain that my review went through. If it did, use both assessments to determine the value of the manuscript.