

Review of: "A Perspective for Economic and Social Unfoldings of AI"

Tanya Jaber¹

¹ Middle Technical University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

For abstract

One suggestion for improvement would be to provide a bit more detail about the specific techniques or approaches that will be discussed in the paper. This would help to give the reader a clearer idea of the focus of the paper and what they can expect to learn from it.

Overall, this excerpt provides some interesting perspectives on the potential risks and benefits of AI, as well as some useful advice for those involved in AI-related initiatives. However, the writing could benefit from some clarification and more concrete examples to illustrate the points being made.

To increase the likelihood of publication, author might want to consider incorporating additional relevant literature and research findings, providing more detailed and nuanced explanations and analyses of key concepts and arguments, clearly articulating the implications and contributions of his work, and ensuring that his writing is clear, concise, and well-organized.