

Review of: "Toxicological evaluation of aqueous extracts of Clematis hirsuta and Rhamnus prinoides"

Banzeer Ahsan Abbasi

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript "Toxicological evaluation of aqueous extracts of Clematis hirsuta and Rhamnus prinoides" is written in simple and clear english. The article is worthy of publication but following changes is mandatory before the publication of this manuscript

The accession number received from the herbarium is missing. Please mention them. Also, name of plant identifier is missing.

Chemical profiling for two plant used in this study

Volatile chemicals are likely to be lost during boiling, how do you justify this?

How only female rats were selected? Explain with reason please. Why not the male rats were selected?

When doses were applied? Time duration is missing.