

Review of: "Could governmental interventions improve subjective well-being during the COVID-19 pandemic? Findings from 750 street vendors in Cali, Colombia"

Swati Gupta

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic covers an important issue and adds significantly to the extant literature. The author has made commendable effort by covering almost all the significant aspects of the study. However, I enquire/ suggest the following questions/ recommendations for making the study more comprehensive.

1. Specify the research gap and research questions first and then align the hypotheses accordingly.
2. Operationalize the variables (such as- yesterday unhappiness, yesterday worriedness, and yesterday depression) used in the study for better understanding of the concept.
3. On page number 4 out of 33 under heading- socio-economic factors the demographic details if presented in tabular form will be better. For example <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.ijdr.2021.102617> as represented in this paper.

Overall, the study is engaging and pertinent.

Best wishes!