

Review of: "A Perspective for Economic and Social Unfoldings of AI"

Monika Saxena

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This paper addresses an overview of Artificial Intelligence on economic and social dimensions. However I feel that the theoretical framework should be strong and literature review has to be more to support the statements. Contribution to future research is a significant part of a research article which needs to be addressed more elaborately. After the changes are incorporated this paper can be published,