

Review of: "Tourists' Activities and their Impacts on Chinhoyi Caves Heritage Site, Zimbabwe"

Mohammed Ibrahim Abdelsalam¹

¹ Sudan University for Science and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear: Journal Editor:

Thank you for your cooperation.

This manuscript needs major correction to be suitable for publication.

Please find below the comments of the manuscripts that reviewed:

Title: The title is expressive and comprehensive.

Abstract: brief and clear, but it needs additions to be comprehensive, I suggest the following paragraph to be added at the end of it.

The study concluded that the tourist activities at the Chinhoyi caves are having a great negative impact on the heritage site which if not addressed may lead to a total loss of value of this heritage tourism site in Zimbabwe. The study recommended that a proper system needed for controlling what tourists do when they visit the heritage site should be set up to minimize the noted negative impacts.

Keywords: suitable and enough.

Introduction: It contained a historical background of the study theme, but needs to modify the citation of some references, for example (Garcia-Hernandez, Calle-Vaquero & Yubero, 2017) change to (Garcia-Hernandez et al, 2017). Because the reference if had more than two authors just write the first author and refer to the other authors by et al. there are many references that need to be revised in the same manner.

Research objectives: The first objective should be removed and the other two should be kept.

Research methods: please explain why only 15 respondents were selected from the research population. Please add one paragraph about the study area (Chinhoyi Caves) and a map.

Results and discussion: In this part, tables and figures need to be added to strengthen the results and interpretation.

Conclusion and recommendations: The conclusions are appropriate, and the recommendations are expressive of the findings of the study.

References: There are many references cited in the text not found in the list and there are many references appeared in the list not found in the text, please revise the citation of references in the text and then matching it into the references list.

The final decision: accepted with a major correction and it is verified by the editorial committee.