I would like to appreciate the efforts of the author who worked hard to write this review. However i would like to mention few flaws so that author may consider them before writing any research in future:

1. There are many grammatical mistakes in the article which cant be ignored.
2. Before selecting any topic for review please go through google scholar to check whether this topic has already been published or it will be a novel finding for the researchers. In your case, this topic has already been published:

a) Adverse Effects of Personal Protective Equipment Used on Healthcare Workers' Skin during COVID-19 Outbreak

b) Skin manifestations associated with personal protective equipment (PPE) in health care professionals during COVID 19 pandemic
