

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Definition

Giorgio Bedogni¹, Alberto Bedogni²

1 University of Trieste

2 University of Padua

A Definition is a new piece of knowledge produced by researchers which represents one of the building blocks at the base of research. By its very nature, the Definition is suited to be evaluated through simple parameters such as numeric rating scale, direct comment and number of reuses in new research. The entire researchers' community has the power to take part in the evaluation process of Definitions.