

Review of: "Elohim or Elohayim"

Stephanus Snyman¹

¹ University of the Free State

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I have read through the article and I fully agree with comments made by other reviewers. In its present state the article cannot be accepted for publication. One wonders what does is contribute to knowledge we already have on the problem addressed and secondly, there is just too little works consulted. My recommendation would be a more focussed statement of the problem the researcher intends to investigate, what methodology s/he wants to apply and then proceed to argue the case.