This research publication covers a thorough and insightful exploration of its topic, with robust data analysis.

Here are the few points which I would like to highlight:

1. The introduction section needs more references to validate the claim more efficiently, for instance, in line 5.
2. In Fig. 1, the author uses subheadings such as (A), (B), and (C). In the content, only Fig. 1 as a whole is mentioned. All the subheadings need to be captioned separately in theory as well.
3. In Table 1, the author at a few places uses notations like (,) after country names (South Africa and Korea), and at some locations, this notation is missing. Kindly rephrase appropriately.
4. Overall, the research carried out in this study is a valuable contribution to the medical field.
